nominee for President, has accepted the nomination."OUR JIM" will be here on the 1st day of Quarterly court, Monday, July the 19th. Come out and hear him.THE vote of the primary Saturday was as follows: Total vote, 633; for Little, 554; for Hayercraft, 321; for Noe, 282.We have received the initial number of the Daily Gazette, published by Ben Deering. It is a new little sheet, and deserves to succeed.J. B. ENTERPRISE GAINS has resolved himself into a Daily at Paducah, and is coming right along. Hurrah for John.
You can't keep him under.It is the purpose of a large number of Democrats to have a flag-raising here on the 19th, and such another ratification as was never "heard tell on." Make your arrangements to be here.ALL Kentuckians who attended the Cincinnati Convention will remember with gratitude the efforts of Hon. Henry McHenry in securing tickets to the convention for them. He worked assiduously for his home people and succeeded admirably. — Muhlenberg Echo."QUININE JIM" will be here Monday July 19. Let the "unfettered turn out en masse and have the biggest time imaginable. We'll send for Alex. Craycroft and as Jim Rucker says, "kill the fatted calf and eat the passover. Democrats do not forget the 19."OHIO COUNTY Democrats are all right.
There may be a few malcontents who have failed in their designs and are making some fuss, but the masses are alive and enthused, and will stand by the grand old party and its principles, and vote and work for its nominees.MR. GEO. R. ASHBY says that the petition from Centertown, published in the Herald last week, was erroneous so far as his name was concerned, as he does not live in that precinct and did not sign it. It was a typographical error made in setting the initials of another Mr. Ashby.THE death of Mr. Spratt has made a squaring up of the business of the Pickett Tobacco Warehouse, of Louisville, necessary. An investigation shows the firm of Spratt & Co., bankrupt. The surviving members made an assignment and organized a new firm.THE decision of Judge Jackson, concerning negro jurymen, has been affirmed by the Court of Appeals, Judge Coffey rendering the decision. The Jury Commissioners, in drawing Grand and Petit Jurors, after this must draw some colored jurors. We progress.DON CAMERON refused the Chairmanship of the National Republican Committee, so Governor Jewell, of Connecticut, was chosen. The Committee organized last Friday, in New York, and prepared for an active campaign.
Blaine was invited to visit the Pacific States.THE Police Judge of Paradise, J. D.
Welbourn, who was arrested some time since, has been released. Hon. Walter Evans procured an order from the Attorney General at Washington to dismiss the proceedings in the U. S. Circuit Court at Louisville, as it was clearly shown that there was no criminal intent. We are glad that the case has terminated thus, and Judge Welbourn comes out innocent.THE convention at Russellville, last Wednesday, nominated Hon. W. L.
Dulaney for Circuit Judge and Hon.
Jno. M. Porter for Commonwealth's Attorney. The nominations were unanimous. Both of the nominees live in Bowling Green, are excellent gentlemen and well worthy of the positions to which they are nominated and will have a walk over in August.THE Louisiana delegates to the Cincinnati Convention were enthusiastic for General Hancock. They had a banner on which they had an excellent portrait of the General, and on the back of the banner were excerpts from his general order on taking command of the department of the South, in which he declared that "trial by jury, the habeas corpus, liberty of speech and of the press, the natural rights of persons and property must be preserved." That sentiment made Hancock the Democratic nominee for the Presidency.

We understand that Hon. James A.
McKenzie is almost certain to stand for re-election to Congress. We are also advised that Hon. John W. Lockett and H. H. Slouss, both of Henderson, will be candidates for the place. We will probably get up a lively race before its over, but the man that beats "Jimmy Mc" will have to be in good trim and carry no dead weight.

THE ratification meeting, Monday, was a whaler. They ratified the nomination of Hancock and English very enthusiastically, but when it came to the ratification of the action of Ford and Collins, and the course of the Herald, their enthusiasm knew no bounds.
The swell of the voices of the hundreds of staunch, square-told Democrats of the county, almost unroofed the Courthouse.

WE call the attention of our readers to the likeness of Messrs. Garfield and Arthur, Republican nominees for President and Vice President, which appear elsewhere in this issue. Our Republican friends can get from this a very good idea of the looks of the men they are expecting to vote for in November next. We will, next week, give a true likeness of the Democratic ticket. We have cuts large and small of each of the tickets, for the purpose of getting up posters for rallying meetings, &c.

PROF. JOHN O'FLAHERTY was elected chairman of the ratification meeting Monday, and, on taking the chair, made a very appropriate speech, which was warmly applauded. He was followed by Prof. W. B. Hayward, in an eloquent speech, which had the true Democratic ring about it. He was followed by Judge F. P. Morgan in a short speech and the exercises closed. Every Democrat in the county is for Hancock and English, and if the canvass is properly managed, we will have accessions from the Republican ranks.

THIS paper will strive to lessen the Democratic majority in the State and to hold out to those who are seeking homes the cheering hope that there is a good time coming when a man can be a Republican in Kentucky without losing either business or social standing in the State. — Louisville Commercial.

It is a shame that a paper published in Kentucky by men acquainted with the condition of affairs, will so far stray from the truth as to insinuate that Republicans lose business or social standing by reason of their political opinions.
Such a statement is utterly false. There can not be an instance given in this State where a man is ostracised, socially or commercially, by reason of his political views.

THE Primary Election Saturday, under the circumstances, was a big success, and shows conclusively that the Democrats of the county favor party organization. Notwithstanding the non-action of a majority of the Committee, their influence, whether they willed or not, thus being thrown against a primary election, although it rained incessantly for days, and many men were kept at home fixing up washed down fences, although it was generally circulated that Maj. Joe Hayercraft had withdrawn his claims from the primary, and that there would be no contest and the primary would be a mere matter of form, despite all this there were 633 votes cast, which is the largest participation by the Democrats in a primary election or convention ever before known in Ohio county, save and except instances where we had local candidates. This, in the face of all the adverse circumstances, shows conclusively that the Democrats of the county approve the course contended for by the Herald, disapproved of the neglect or inactivity of the majority of the committee, approved of the action taken by Messrs. Ford and Collins, and are determined on organization and the support of Democratic nominees, from Constable to President.

WE publish elsewhere the action of the State Central Committee approving the action of Messrs. Ford and Collins, a minority of our County Committee.
The State Committee also call a mass meeting of the Democrats of Ohio county to recommend seven suitable persons as a committee for the county.
So far as we are concerned, we have never by word, letter, petition, editorial or speech asked for or advocated the removal of the old ticket. We are unaware of any one here asking for it, unless the petition published in the Herald for a few issues past can thus be construed. That there are Democrats in the county who favor their removal we have not a doubt. Our efforts have been to get the committee to obey the call of the District Committee. Falling in this, we favored the action of the minority, and thought that the District and State Committees could make a minority action valid.
This was done, and this was all that was asked for by those who signed the paper to the State Committee. What was done, was done by true Democrats, who saw that a failure of the action of Ohio county would cause a bolt, and that a bolt under such circumstances would create a big rent in the party, and all that was done was an honest effort to avert a bolt and preserve unity in the ranks. We are sorry that the bolt has occurred in spite of all that could be done. It will be seen that we were correct in our prophecies, for Maj. Joe Hayercraft says he bolted because the Democratic Committee of Ohio county would not act. If this Committee had gone on in proper time and discharged their duty there would be no bolt or Independent on the track to-day.
But the fight is over, and we have not, and will not, ask for, urge or advocate the removal of the committee. We succeeded in our effort, viz., having regular nominees for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, and our fight is over except to do all we fairly and honorably can to elect the Democratic nominees, from Hancock down.
We criticized the failure of the Committee to act because we thought their negligence, failure or refusal to act was a proper subject of criticism. We were not actuated from any other motives.

ANOTHER GRAND RALLY IN HART-FORD.

Monday, July 19th, 1880.

"JIM" MCKENZIE COMING.

Let the People Turn Out to Hear the Defender of Their Rights.

The Hon. James A. McKenzie will speak at the Court House, in Hartford, on Monday, July 19th, 1880, on the political issues of the day. It is useless to predict a big crowd, for Jim draws well.

Refutation.

WHEREAS, We learn that it is charged that the call of the Fordville Democrats on the Democratic Committee of Ohio county, published in the Herald, was gotten up at the instance of John P. Barrett or L. P. Little, or both, we hereby state positively that such report is false in toto. The Democrats of this precinct got it up at their own instance, and not from the suggestion of anyone outside of the district.

Our Vindication.

The true blue, unflinching Democrats were out in force Monday. It was a day set apart for the ratification of the nominations of Hancock and English.
Mr. McHenry went to the courthouse before dinner (a thing not done before in sixteen years) got up a small crowd, and went for us and our paper—giving us the fellows said particular h—ll. We think this one of the most unfair, illiberal things we ever knew Mr. McHenry to do. Why did he speak at the unusual hour. He said he was going away—had to leave to meet the National Committee which convenes in New York, July the 13th. Does it take Mr. Mc-Henry all the time from the 5th to the 13th of July to go from Hartford to New York? But admitting that he had to leave, and knowing that he intended to assail us and our paper, would it not be fair and just, speaking at such an unusual hour, to have notified us?
We were in our office not sixty yards away, and never dreamed of speaking going on until it was all over and a friend came and told us of it. Was this treatment of us not unfair, unmanly and illiberal? It surely will appear so to an unprejudiced mind. We went at once and gave Mr. McHenry notice that we would reply afternoon and invited him to be present. We were willing to say all we had to say to his face and preferred his presence. As he informed us that he would have to leave, we began speaking as early as the crowd gathered and vindicated our course to our own satisfaction and from the unbounded enthusiasm of the masses of the Democrats present, we feel more than assured that our action in criticising the non-action of the committee, and urging the holding of a primary election is sustained and endorsed by every true, consistent Democrat in the county. It was one of the proudest days of our life. The Democrats said "well done." As an evidence of the way it took we got 27 new subscribers before we got out of the house and the congratulations and approval of hundreds of Democrats, personally.

Action of the State Central Committee.

FRANKFORD, Ky., June 30, 1880.
J. W. Ford and J. L. Collins, Hartford, Ky.

GENTS—At a meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee, held this day, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The Democratic Committee for the Fourth Judicial District, composed of the counties of Daviess, McLean, Hancock and Ohio, has ordered a primary election to be held in said District on Saturday, the 3d day of July, 1880, to select candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, and

Resolved, That the State Central Committee approve of the action of the minority of the Ohio County Committee in taking the necessary steps to hold such primary election in pursuance of the call of the District Committee, and hereby declares that it is the duty of all Democrats in Ohio County to obey and respect the action of the minority of said Committee the same as if said action had been taken by a majority of said Committee.

Resolved, That the Democracy of Ohio county be and are hereby requested to meet in Mass Meeting on Monday July 19th, and recommend to this Committee seven names for an Executive Committee for said county.

Respectfully,
J. SPORDARD JOHNSON,
Chairman of the State Central Com.

Our New School.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Hartford Seminary.

This school will open September 1st, under the proprietorship of Prof. Wayland Alexander, one of the most successful teachers in all this sunny Southland. As principal of the school at South Carrollton, for the past seven years, he has built up a reputation to be envied by any teacher ambitious to succeed in his profession.

He is assisted by a splendid corps of teachers, each a star in his or her specially. A brief mention of some of them will not be amiss.

PROF. AMOS BENNETT, a native of McLean, was educated at Asbury University, Greensboro, Ind., graduating there in 1877. The faculty conferred upon him the highest honors of the school for being the best mathe-matician in his class. In June, this year, his Alma mater conferred upon him the degree of A. M. He is a very accurate, energetic teacher—stimulating his class at all times to the highest labors and energy. He has no superior in his department.

PROF. JAMES S. GLENN was educated at South Callolito Male and Female Institute, graduating in 1879—receiving the honors of his class.
He is a young man of very superior mental ability, well versed in his department—Greek, Latin and Natural Science. His success last year was readily acknowledged by all connected with, or interested in the school.

MISS LIZZIE MOULTON
was educated at the school of Prof.
Geo. U. Edgar, one of the finest instructors in the State. She is a lady of high culture, brilliant intellect, and a ready power of adapting herself to the disposition of children. She never fails to secure their love and confidence.

As a primary teacher, she has but few equals and not a superior anywhere.
She is loved and admired by all with whom she comes in contact—a queen in the social circle.

MISS GRACE THOMPSON will have charge of the Music Department. She received her musical and vocal culture at some of the best schools the country affords.

In view of her excellent advantage in training, and her practical experience, she is eminently qualified for the important position assigned her. Her instruction and course of training has won the general approbation of all who attended the displays which were made in her departments. In fact, her plan of teaching was a wonderful success.

The ornamental department will be under the charge of a lady of 15 years experience, born in Italy and educated in Paris and Germany. She is a lady of no ordinary ability and qualifications—very amiable and pleasing in her address.

With such a galaxy of stars, Hartford Seminary will take rank, from the start, with the best institutions of learning in the South, and all that it needs to be a success, from the commencement, is the united support and favor of our people.
It surely ought to have, and will get, this.

There was no town at the water's edge, no people, no wharf. The passengers and the merchandise were put ashore in lighters, which ran up into the sand. A troop of camels, with their drivers, lay on the beach, ready to transfer the goods into the interior. And the disciples landed were boxed marked. Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A., showing that they contained medicines and whences they came. These with other goods were hoisted on the backs of the camels, for transportation to Antioch. A Pair of Johns.

John Bradley, a brick-mason in Greenville, on Monday last week, being somewhat intoxicated, concluded to run over John Jarrigan, a farmer of Muhlenberg county who happened to be in town. Jarrigan took his insults for a while and tried to avoid him, but Bradley finally came up to him in the street and slapped him in the face and called him a son of a b—h, which was more than Jarrigan would take, so he lit on Bradley with his knife—cutting him in about a dozen places very severely. It was thought by physicians that he would recover. It is probably best for us not to inform of this affair.

Of Interest to Tax-payers.

By the act of the last legislature, I am required to collect and pay over the taxes of the county four months earlier than heretofore. The law now fixes a penalty of five per cent on all taxes unpaid on October 1st, and ten per cent on all taxes unpaid January 1st. I have to collect and pay over all taxes within the year, and for a failure to do so, have to pay 30 per cent damages and costs. This would bankrupt me and my surties, and to avoid it I hereby give due notice that myself and deputies will not call but once for taxes. If you do not pay them we will levy at once, as we cannot afford to make but one trip. Heed this call and be ready. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

CHARLES W. PHILLIPS, Sheriff Ohio County.

Names.

There are some smart children in Hartford. The other night as Mrs. was putting John to bed he solemnly inquired, "Ma, are we rich?"

"In one way we are, my son; your father says he values me at $3,000,000, you at $2,000,000 and the baby at $1,000,000." The next morning as he examined the new patch that had been added to his old blue breeches, his father over-heard the following exciting soliloquy: "Well I think father had better sell off about half of us, or the whole of baby and get the rest of us some decent duds." About an hour afterwards an anxious faced man might have been seen paying through the immense stock of boys' clothing at Anderson's Bazar, for a suit for a boy "going on seven years old."
